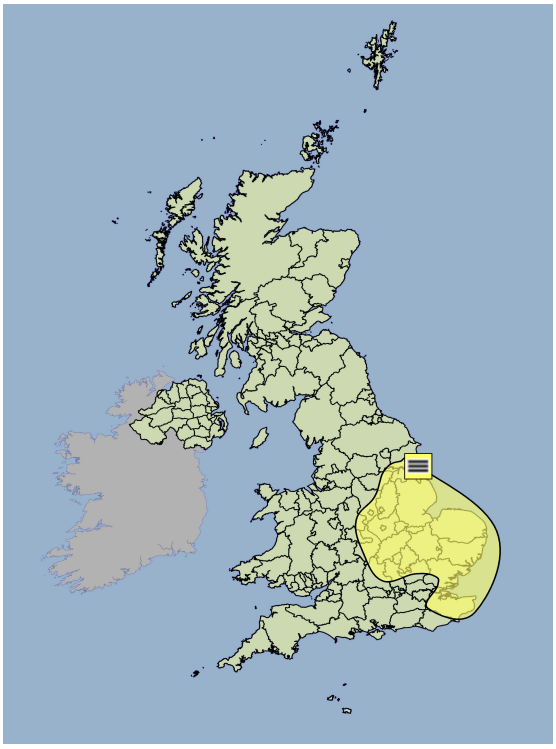
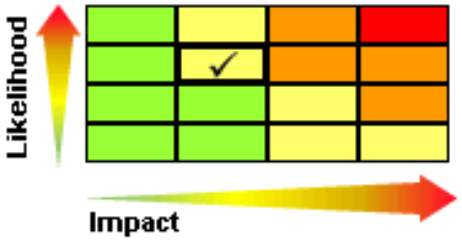
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Fog has formed overnight, and is now dense in parts of central, east and southeast England, with visibilities sub-100 metres in a number of locations, particularly on any hills. Fog should steadily clear after sunrise, although the odd patch may last until mid-morning.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Fog

Valid from 05:30 on Tue, 27th Aug 2013 until 09:30 on Tue, 27th Aug 2013

The first fairly widespread fog of the season, may affect travel times in some areas. The public should be aware of the need to allow a little extra time.
